Workshop Description

How to Craft a College List:

A Workshop for All High Students AND Their Parents

Choosing among the United States' 5000+ colleges to craft a college list of a dozen can overwhelm even the most relaxed teen. In this workshop, college application coach and President of Crimson Coaching™, Dr. P. (Dominique Padurano, Ph.D.) counsels students and parents on how to use a variety of free online resources to come up with a college list that's realistic – academically and financially. Dr. P. will provide students and parents with concrete steps that they can take during each year of high school so that the application process itself can become a journey of self-discovery for adolescents on the threshold of adulthood.

Dr. P.'s Bio
