Workshop Description

So, You Want to Go to an Ivy League College?

Tips for K-12 Students Aiming for Admission to Any Highly Selective College

While there are around 5,300 colleges and universities in the United States, many students set their sights on just a handful. This group often includes the most highly selective institutions, such as Stanford and MIT, and usually includes one, some, or all of the eight Ivy League colleges (Brown, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard, Princeton, University of Pennsylvania, and Yale). Dr. P. – herself a magna cum laude graduate of Harvard – will describe key actions that elementary, middle, and high school students can take to make themselves competitive for admission to one of these institutions. A former teacher and current independent educational consultant, Dr. P. has taught and counseled students who have been accepted to all eight Ivy League colleges, as well as many of the nation's other highly selective institutions. Dr. P. recommends this talk for all parents of school-aged children and students between grades 6 and 12. She suggests that both bring a notebook and pen to the presentation.

Dr. P.'s Bio

After teaching for more than a decade at some of the nation's top high schools, Dr. P. (Dominique Padurano, Ph.D.) founded Crimson Coaching™, a boutique tutoring, test prep, and college counseling consultancy in 2014. Dr. P. isn't just President of Crimson Coaching, she's also its Head Coach. Dr. P. has taught hundreds of students subjects from Algebra to French to Spanish to World History; prepared them to take standardized tests like the ISEE, SAT, ACT, GRE and Regents and APs; and coached them to write applications that won them admissions to Harvard, Princeton, and other elite colleges. In addition to her undergraduate degree from Harvard College, Dr. Padurano also possesses a Master's degree in Education and a doctorate in History. She works with clients worldwide and may be contacted directly at info@crimsoncoaching.com.
