Workshop Description

Getting Great Letters of Recommendation

With the admissions to highly selective universities more competitive than ever, no part of the application process can be overlooked. Yet, students often misunderstand – and therefore overlook – their role in obtaining an effective letter of recommendation. In this program, Dr. P. – who, as a former teacher at Scarsdale High and Horace Mann Upper Schools, has written scores of letters of recommendation for former students who earned acceptance to Harvard, Yale, Princeton, and other top colleges in the U.S., Canada, and U.K. – shares tips for how students can take action to cultivate great letters of recommendation from their first year in high school. Dr. P. recommends that students attend with parents, and that both bring a notebook and pen to take notes on the presentation.

Dr. P.'s Bio

After teaching for more than a decade at some of the nation's top high schools, Dr. P. (Dominique Padurano, Ph.D.) founded Crimson Coaching™, a boutique tutoring, test prep, and college counseling consultancy in 2014. Dr. P. isn't just President of Crimson Coaching, she's also its Head Coach. Dr. P. has taught hundreds of students subjects from Algebra to French to Spanish to World History; prepared them to take standardized tests like the ISEE, SAT, ACT, GRE and Regents and APs; and coached them to write applications that won them admissions to Harvard, Princeton, and other elite colleges. Dr. Padurano earned her own Bachelor's degree, magna cum laude, from Harvard College, and also possesses a Master's in Education, and a Ph.D. in History. She works with clients worldwide and may be contacted directly at info@crimsoncoaching.com.
