Workshop Description

SAT? ACT? Submit or Not?

Choosing, Preparing for, and Submitting (or Not) the Right Standardized Test A Webinar for 9th-11th Graders and Their Parents

Every year, millions of kids and their parents agonize over whether the teen should take the SAT or the ACT. COVID accelerated universities' adoption of "test-optional" admissions policies, so now families also need to decide whether to take either college entrance exam at all. Those that do then need to decide if they should submit those scores. In this webinar, test prep tutor and college application coach Dr. P. (Dominique Padurano, Ph.D.) explains the differences between both tests and describes the type of student that may find one versus the other a better fit. She also provides insight into recent admissions trends for families deciding whether and where to submit test scores. Drawing upon her 25 years in the test prep industry and as a classroom teacher, Dr. P. will also provide listeners with concrete steps that they can take to prepare for both tests so that the student can fulfill their potential -- during junior year and beyond.

Dr. P.'s Bio

After teaching for more than a decade at some of the nation's top high schools, Dr. P. (Dominique Padurano, Ph.D.) founded Crimson Coaching™, a boutique tutoring, test prep, and college counseling consultancy. Dr. P. has taught hundreds of students subjects from Algebra to French to Spanish to World History; prepared them to take standardized tests like the SAT, ACT, GRE, ISEE, SHSAT, and Regents and APs; and coached them to write applications that won them admissions to Harvard, Princeton, and other elite colleges. After earning her own Bachelor's degree, magna cum laude, from Harvard College, Dr. P. began her career teaching SAT prep for the Princeton Review. She also possesses a Master's in Education, and a Ph.D. in History. She works with clients worldwide and may be contacted directly at info@crimsoncoaching.com.
